

Dr. Dulo is a Water Resources Engineer with over 29 years' experience and has been a Team Leader in Design, Supervision and evaluation of water and sanitation projects in Kenya, Tanzania and Rwanda; a Country Consultant for the DEWFORA EU FP-7 program. Dr. Dulo has served as a team leader for the NBCBN Integrated Research project on Flood and Drought in the Kagera and Nzoia River Basins, In-country flood Local action Project, a national water sector Review Consultant, Hydrologist, Water Engineer and a consultant in various Consulting firms.

- He is an international capacity building expert in IWRM. He is currently a senior lecturer and Associate at the Institute of Climate Change and Adaptation, University of Nairobi.
- He currently the Thematic head for the climate change technology - coordinates initiative in Institute for Climate Change and Adaptation collaborations in GIZ-UNEP Green Economy strategy
- A Research Director – Infrastructure for the REACH Improving Water Security Project in Lodwar.
- A CoPI at the AfriWatSan DfID funded Research in Kisumu county
- A Manager of the Mamlaka Strategic Management Unit of the Student Welfare Authority